

Feng Shui

Feng Shui is a millenary philosophy that studies how the space arrangement can affect our well-being, the way we feel and how we function. Originally from China, this ancient art has at least 3000 years and it relies on the concepts of oriental cosmology. Its name literally means wind and water, an analogy to the fluid motion of these two elements.

Feng Shui Elements

EARTH

For those looking for comfort, warmth, peace, security and harmony with other people

FIRE

For the ones who need warmth, passion, magic, dynamism and an active social life

WATER

For those searching for freshness, regeneration, rest and tranquility

TREE

For those who love lightness, youth, novelty, adventure, vitality and creativity

METAL

For those seeking for sophistication, order, control and concentration

Feng Shui Cycles

There must be a balance between all the Feng Shui elements.

The lacking of one of these elements or the abundance of another arises problems or negative energies. When the arrangement of the 5 elements is harmonious, everything should flow smoothly, accomplishing balance.

There are 3 interactions (cycles):
productive, exhausting and destroying.

Productive Cycle
Exhaustive Cycle
Destructive Cycle

Luo Shu

Male Luo Shu

1. Add all the numbers of the year you're born and repeat the process until you get a number from 1 to 9.
2. Subtract 11.
3. The result is the male Luo Shu. If you get 10 the Luo Shu is 1.

For example:

$$2005 > 2+0+0+5 = 7 > \mathbf{11} - 7 = 4 \rightarrow \mathbf{Luo Shu = 4}$$

Female Luo Shu

1. Add all the numbers of the year you're born and repeat the process until you get a number from 1 to 9.
2. Add 4.
3. The result is the female Luo Shu. If you get 10 the Luo Shu is 1.

For exemple:

$$1963 > 1+9+6+3 = 19 > 1+9 = 10 > 1+0=1 > \mathbf{1+4} =5 \rightarrow \mathbf{Luo Shu = 5}$$
